

SIDDHA POKHARI

But anyway, in Bhaktapur to the west side, there is a pond called the Tau Pukhu or Sidhdha Pokhari. Our children also go there and I think we find it very interesting to visit that place. Even now a lot of people go and visit that place and enjoy the scenery in Siddha Pokhari. So the kul Devtaa, our lineage deity during our Diwali ancestor worship lies in Siddha Pokhari along with the kul Devtaas of other groups as well.

DURBAR SQUARE

TAUMADHI

Probably the most popular place is Taumadhi, because of the tall five storey temple and after Taumadhi... I think the most important place is the Layeku... or the Durbar Square.

FIVE STOREY TEMPLE

KWATHANDAO

About place....the place (Kwanthandao) where we live is probably the most interesting.

DIPANKAR VIHAR

So there is one more thing I'd like to add. So there is an image or deity called Dipankar. And many people people don't know about it. There are people all over Bhaktapur. And these people may never have come to visit the Dipankar shrines..
